Celebrate! West Hartford

Something for Everyone

Now in its 33rd year, Celebrate! West Hartford continues to be the town's signature event. As the saying goes, there is something for everyone – an arts and crafts show, rides and amusements, a food court, special activities, sponsor presentations, music, road races, and civic and community information booths. As Steering Committee Chair Mary Alexander put it, "Celebrate encourages residents of all ages and interests to come together to celebrate the quality of life offered in West Hartford."

Greetings from the Town Manager

Celebrate provides a wonderful opportunity for residents of all ages and backgrounds to have great fun, learn more about our community and its services, while experiencing the comradery of our dynamic population. Police Chief Vernon Riddick, Fire Chief Greg Priest and I will be greeting people from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. both days. We'll be by the flagpole. Stop by and have a chat!"

"Online shopping is fast and convenient, but there's nothing like purchasing a gift for yourself, family member or friend that you can actually see first-hand, touch, and learn right from its creator the thought, care and techniques used to create it," said Rory Joyce, who does much of her birthday, event and holiday shopping at the show. "The people I give gifts to really seem to appreciate the fact that they have received something special that I carefully selected just for them."

"This is the 33rd year for the Arts & Crafts Show, and each year we welcome a wonderful mix of exhibitors who have been with us many years and have developed a strong following, and a great group of new exhibitors who are bringing with them interesting and diverse works," said Barbara Belmont, who directs the show.

Leisure Services Invites Everyone to Step Up to Health

The annual "Step Up to Health" challenges attendees in fun, physical activities - all for free. According to Marc Blanchard, Manager of Leisure Services, "This challenge is part of the department's overall "Step Up to Health" initiative designed to encourage people of all ages to participate in healthy physical activities."

To play, individuals or families pick up a map at the Leisure Services tent (at the entrance to the Town Hall), then visit various "healthy partner" booths located throughout the event. At each location, they can engage in an activity and get their map stamped. After they have completed the challenges, they return to the Leisure Services tent for one final challenge and a prize.

Celebrate! West Hartford 2020!

Get involved! Show Your Town Spirit!

Before you know it, preparations will be underway for the 2020 event. So if you are interested in helping out in any number of ways before or during the 2020 event, please visit one of the Information Booths or contact Sandy Gifford at CelebrateVolunteers@WestHartfordCT.gov or call Linda Geisler at 860-561-7512. Every volunteer gets an official Celebrate! West Hartford tee shirt and an invitation to the Volunteer Appreciation Event in June. Join us - it's fun to part of it all!

Here in West Hartford we love our dogs: dogs of very breed, mixed heritage, colors and sizes. We love to take them with us on hikes at the reservoir, a walk around the block, or a stroll though the center. But there's one place they should not go, and that's Celebrate! West Hartford. According to Chief State Animal Control Officer Karen Jones, "Public events are tough on dogs: the hot asphalt (which can cause scalded paws); the hordes of people towering above them; the multiple of smells from the food court, the music and shrieks of delight from the children enjoying the rides, all combine to form an anxiety-producing, sensory overload for your dog." So please, do them a favor: leave your dog at home. They will thank you for it.
